

Devotion Day 7

Today is our last day of devotions, and we will be doing a recap of the whole week. Just because this booklet is over does not mean you should stop exploring the Bible. This booklet only covers a small portion of the Word of God. Go out and find people to talk about it, find more devotionals, and feel free to use the tools in the back of this booklet to help further your bible reading journey. This is because God made the Bible for Whoever.

Read: 2 Timothy 3:16-17

God's word is meant to help you and everyone who reads it through life. You will create a close and unique relationship with God by getting to know your Bible. We also see that besides the Bible being a direct way to know the Father, it is good for other things. We can learn from it and become better people on this earth. So Go! Discover your Bible, find the truth and life God has given you. He would want you to because God purposefully made this collection of books for Whoever, and that Whoever is you!.

Questions:

- What is your biggest takeaway from this week?
- What have you learned from the Bible this week?
- What lesson that you learned are you going to apply to your life?

Thank you for going through this booklet. It was designed specifically for you to help your amazing journey through the Word of God. Take this, keep it, and use it as much as you like. Hopefully, you can also use this devotion, share it with others, and encourage them to share the gospel. We designed this book very purposefully for Whoever!
